6th Sunday After Pentecost

Good morning, friends! I have a question for you. What did you have to do to get ready to come to church this morning? (allow for answers) Most of us got to eat breakfast, brush our teeth, comb our hair, make our bed, maybe even help a little sibling get ready.

What if we took the time to get all ready to come to church and we just never made it out the door? What if we were so busy getting ready picking the right pair of shoes, cooking and eating a big breakfast, or we got distracted by watching tv that we never made it here?! Would we have missed out on the important thing? Why do we come to church? (allow for answers) We come to church to worship God, to pray, to hear God's word and learn about Jesus, and to be in communion with our church family. Today's gospel lesson from Luke tells us the story about Mary and Martha, two sisters who were Jesus' friends. Jesus came into town and stopped by their house. Martha was busy cleaning and cooking and making sure the house was just right. Mary sat down at Jesus' feet and listened as Jesus taught her. This made Martha mad! She thought that Mary should be busy helping her instead of sitting down. Martha wanted Jesus to tell her to get up and help, but Jesus told Martha that Mary was doing exactly what she needed to be doing.

Having Jesus come to your house and then not even taking the time to listen to him is a lot like getting ready for church and then not making it here. Yes, it's important to do work, but it's just as important to sit and hear what Jesus has to say. Today, instead of letting your mind wander during service, see if you can pay attention and focus on Jesus as you listen to the sermon, sing the hymns, and pray. What do you think Jesus is trying to teaching you today?

Loving God, thank you for your son, Jesus. Help us to remember that it is important to listen to what he has to say. Amen.
